

Remembrance day poem

On the Eleventh hour of the Eleventh day of the Eleventh month

The world becomes silent as the flags are lowered

We pause a moment to remember

The gallant soldiers who risk their lives to keep us safe

We pause a moment to thank

All the fearless veterans who stood up to defend our freedom

We pause a moment to learn

Our past mistakes have led to gruesome wars

We pause a moment to reflect

What we can do to preserve the preciousness of peace?

We pause a moment to breathe

The fresh autumn air filled with fragrance of poppies

Scarlet petals flutter delicately in the breeze like beautiful butterflies

The spirit of fallen soldiers nestled in the black center of the poppies

Like an unmarked grave guarded by sweet angels

Lest we forget

The atrocities of the war

Lest we forget

Every soldier who deserves our utmost reverence

Lest we forget

We can all contribute to make our world a brighter one